'I will fight this hospital NHS red tape scandal'

IT COST £25m to build, but Fareham's state-of-the-art Community Hospital has only worked a 45-hour week Mondays to Fridays since it opened 5 years ago.

Tina Ellis says it cannot operate to full capacity or expand to incorporate other vital services because it's bogged down in NHS red tape.

She says: "Although funded by a type of Private Finance Initiative, it will never be able to operate fully in the interests of residents if this excessive bureaucracy continues as up to five different organisations are needed to agree on any decisions."

So her main pledge is to help Fareham MP Suella Fernandes, who has launched a task force to discuss the issues, to campaign to fight for the hospital to be put to its full and proper use.

Tina added: "Please elect me to help our MP and others to fight for more services – an out-of-hours surgery would be a start."

Tina Ellis and Suella Fernandes found the hospital closed when they paid it a weekend visit.

Tina has a lot more to offer if you elect her...

- Determined to work with FBC to keep developers off Newlands land
- Passionate about high quality education for Fareham children
- Avid recycler and wants to see revenue increased from this source in Fareham to keep refuse disposal costs as low as possible
- Help ensure Fareham West residents get their issues progressed quickly and effectively
- Facilitate sociable meetings for isolated Fareham residents, aware there are a growing number of single occupants for a variety of reasons and loneliness is a real issue for many
